VOL. XXVI, NO. 234 GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1909 TEN CENTS A WEE

GEORGIA TAKES TAFT TO HER BOSSOM

President Is Royally Entertained At All Points Visited In the Guber State.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 5.—President Taft traveled through central and southeastern Georgia this Indian summer afternoon through woods rich in the warm reds, golds and brown of autumn. He spent the forenoon yesterday at Macon, where he declared he was glad to be back in Georgia again and felt thoroughly at home in the State whence he went to Washington last March to assume the oath of office. The President arrived here at 7:45 o'clock tonight and began his eighteen hours' stay in the city with an elaborate banquet at the DeSoto Hotel. Today the President was taken for a sail over the harbor, a spin around the famous automobile course over which the grand prize races were run last fall, and will have lunch at the Thunderbolt Casino.

Savannah is the farthest South the President will go and when he leaves here at 2 o'clock today he will turn at last toward Washington, where he is due to arrive next Wednesday evening.

Georgia has proved no exception to the other Southern States President Taft has visited in extending to him a series of welcomes equal to those he has received in any section of the country. In Macon yesterday morning it seemed as though the country for miles around had been depopulated to make up the throngs that gathered in that city. At every one of the numerous stops between Macon and this city there were large depot throngs out to greet the President and cheer the few words he had an opportunity to utter before the train moved on. Here last night the President was met by another great crowd. During his stay in Savannah, Mr. Taft was the guest of Gen. William W. Gordon, an old family friend.

Governor Brown With President.

Governor Joseph Brown met the President at Macon and made the trip with him to this city. Representative Bartlett also came with the President along with a committee of citizens from this city who went to Dover to extend Savannah's welcome. The President breakfasted this morning at the Bartlett home in Macon, partaking of a spread prepared under the direction of Mrs. Bartlett herself and comprising a list of Southern delicacies that caused the President to declare that if all well-to-do Georgia people breakfasted like that he wondered that such good old institutions as dinner and supper had any vogue at all in this section.

Mr. Taft withstood the temptation, however, of a mint julep that had been brewed with consummate skill and which reposed apparently harmless in a green-topped glass that had perfect barnacles of frosting on the outside. He took the julep in his hand for a moment but that was as far as he got. Waffles, quail, fried chicken, sausage, steak, broiled ham, broiled chicken and "grits" were a part of the breakfast set before the President.

Capt. "Archie" Butt, the President's military aide, an old Georgia boy, was on his native heath yesterday, happy as could be. He had been traveling more than 11,000 miles to reach here with the President, and he enthusiastically asked Mr. Taft yesterday if he didn't think it was well worth the journey to be in Georgia at last. The President graciously agreed and in his speech at the State fair grounds in Macon referred to the fact that he knew Georgia people were all right for he had one for an aide.

Banquet at Savannah.

The banquet in honor of the President was in many respects the most unique and sumptuous that the President has encountered in all his travels. Nearly every course was served on a dish which was taken home by the diners as souvenirs. As the President entered, the 350 guests were standing, waving little silken Presidential flags. At each plate was a gold scarf pin, on which was enscrolled the seal of the city of Savannah. The canape was served on hand-painted china trays bearing the President's initials. Salted almonds were served in individual silver, mounted cut glass dishes. Diamond back terrapin appeared in individual burnished copper chafini dishes, which were souvenirs. Punch was served in silver-mounted glasses; brandy in silver filagree cups, and cigars in red leather cases—all souvenirs.

As the President arose to speak, twenty white doves were liberated over the heads of the diners. Mayor George W. Tiedeman of Savannah presided at the banquet as toastmaster, and the speakers were as follows:

Address of welcome, Samuel B. Adams; "Georgia," Gov. Joseph M. Brown; "The Army," Col. D. C. Kingman, U. S. A.; "The Navy," Admiral C. S. Sperry, U. S. N.; "Savannah," Judge Walter G. Charlton; "The Press," Gen. P. W. Mildrim; "Woman," Walter O. Hartridge. The President, at his own request, spoke last.

WALDO NEWS NOTES.

WALDO, Nov. 5.—A general fusilade in the woods around town since the morning of the first of the month would seem to indicate that there will be no quail left for seed.

The drouth remains unbroken and the want of rain entails great financial loss to strawberry and truck growers.

The Turner store was sold last Monday for the taxes due for last and this year, but the stock had been so reduced in a bankrupt sale that it brought only fifty-five dollars, which was but about fifty per cent of the amount of taxes. But a half a loaf, etc.

Capt. Alvarez finds hog raising profitable and proposes to enlarge the business.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tillis are the proud parents of twin baby girls at their home.

A Hallowe'en party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McKewn was a great success. It was given under the auspices of the Epworth League and was largely attended. The devices for the entertainment were ingenuous, running from the grotesque to the ridiculous. Only when the cuckoo clock gave out the small hours did the players desist.

Mrs. Temperance Newberry, whose one hundredth anniversary of her birthday recently occurred, died on the 2nd and was buried on the 3rd inst. The family came from various distances and attended the funeral.

Mr. Tyson, who has been very low with consumption for some time, died near Orange Heights Thursday, having recently moved from Waldo.

The Baptist Sunday School Convention, running three days including last Sunday, was a pleasant and profitable occasion. The pastor, Rev. Green, was sick, but other preachers filled the pulpit and were strong speakers. All other parts were well carried out.

Waldo seems to suffer more than its share in the delinquencies of those who run board, livery, rent and store bills, and then leave for other pastures without settling their accounts. This evil has been seriously felt of late.

Sparkman & Johns have sold their meat market to J. B. Kennard, who is doing business at the old stand.

Weakly Bros. have coupled a meat market business onto their store business.

SEABOARD WILL HAVE BEST SERVICE EVER

Three Daily Through Trains Between New York And Jacksonville--Other Improvements.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 5.—In behalf of the Seaboard Air Line railway, Mr. S. C. Boylston, Jr., assistant general passenger agent, announces for his company a change of passenger train schedules effective noon, Sunday, November 7. With this change they will inaugurate, in connection with the Pennsylvania railroad, a new additional train between New York and Jacksonville, making three daily trains. The new train to be known as No. 93 will leave New York daily at 10:25 a. m., Washington at 4:20 p. m., to arrive Jacksonville 1:30 p. m. This train will be equipped with Pullman drawing-room sleepers operated between New York and Jacksonville and New York and Knights Key sleepers using the Florida East Coast railway from Jacksonville to Knights Key, leaving Jacksonville at 4 p. m.

The Seaboard will continue to operate their through train No. 81, leaving New York at 1:25 p. m., Washington 7:10 p. m., to arrive Jacksonville at 6:10 p. m. This train will be equipped with Pullman drawing-room sleepers between New York and Jacksonville and Tampa. The Seaboard will also continue to operate the Seaboard fast mail, No. 43, leaving New York at 12:10 a. m., Washington 10:05 a. m., to arrive Jacksonville next morning at 7:45 a. m., carrying Pullman drawing-room sleepers between New York and Jacksonville. Northbound, the New York trains will leave Jacksonville at 6:30 a. m., 9 a. m. and 7:50 p. m. Passengers leaving Jacksonville 9 a. m. on the Seaboard Year-Round Limited are scheduled to reach New York at 2 p. m. next afternoon. The Knights Key sleeper will arrive Jacksonville on Florida East Coast railway train No. 82 at 8:30 a. m. and handled through to New York on this train.

The Seaboard Year-Round Limited is a through train and will not handle local travel, local passengers being taken care of on train No. 92, leaving Jacksonville at 5:30 a. m. Train No. 66, leaving Jacksonville at 7:50 p. m., will continue on its present schedule, arriving Washington 8:05 p. m. and New York at 3:53 a. m. New York passengers may remain in sleeper until 7:30 a. m. The New York trains, both north and southbound will be equipped with new and up-to-date Pullman sleepers. All meals served en route from dining cars, service a la carte. The continued increased travel from the East to Florida has made this additional train service a necessity. In addition to this train service, on or about January 5 the Seaboard will inaugurate the Seaboard Florida Limited between New York, Jacksonville and St. Augustine, making four daily trains. In anticipation of the heavier winter travel that Florida has ever had and the desire to handle its patrons with ease and comfort the Seaboard officials have prepared the most expensive and elaborate train service of any preceding year.

South Florida Service.

Train No. 43 will leave Jacksonville at 9:30 a. m. scheduled to arrive Tampa 5:30 p. m., a quickening of the schedule thirty minutes, carrying Pullman parlor car. This train will make connection for Gainesville, Orlando and all points on the Sarasota branch. Train No. 55 will leave Jacksonville at 3 p. m., instead of 2:40 p. m. for Gainesville and Cedar Key. Train No. 81 will leave Jacksonville at 9:30 p. m. to arrive Tampa at 6:30 a. m., carrying Pullman drawing-room sleepers between Jacksonville and Tampa. With this change of schedule the Seaboard will also inaugurate a through sleeper between Jacksonville and Sarasota via Tampa, giving the people at Palmetto, Bradentown, Manatee, Sarasota, and intermediate points the first Pullman service inaugurated into that teritory. The increased travel into the Manatee territory by homeseekers and tourists has caused the Seaboard to put this improved service into effect.

West Florida Service.

Train No. 71, carrying through sleeper to New Orleans via Tallahassee and Pensacola, will leave Jacksonville at 7:50 a. m. instead of 7:40 a. m. as at present, while train No. 79 will leave Jacksonville 6:30 p. m. instead of 5 p. m. as at present. Local train No. 60, scheduled to leave Jacksonville at 3 p. m. for Savannah will be discontinued.

The Seaboard Air Line railway is today in the best physical condition in the history of the property, the receivers having expended large sums of money in improving the roadbed, laying heavier rail and maintaining the property in general. In addition to the Pullman equipment the through trains are equipped with vestibuled coaches and it will be observed that with this change of schedule the Seaboard Air Line railway has not only put on additional train service, but has shortened the schedule between New York and Jacksonville and between Jacksonville and Tampa. This quickening of schedule is due, in a measure, to the improved physical condition of the property, the improved equipment and the first-class locomotives of the Baldwin and Rogers make and are said to be the heaviest type of engines operated in the South.

Census of Mauufactures Will Be of Much Value

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5.—The general schedule which will be used in the Federal Census of Manufactures for the calendar year 1909 has been formulated, and about 700,000 printed copies have been ordered by Census Director E. Dana Durand.

The schedule is in the form of a four-page folder, about 9x11½ inches in size. It is smaller and simpler than the ones upon which the 1900 and 1905 census of manufactures were taken. It has less than half as many spaces for entries as the earlier ones and seems likely to insure less labor and greater accuracy in the collection of the manufactures data.

There are in the general schedule thirteen principal questions, with their subdivisions. This is the same number as in the general schedule for 1905. There are, however, important differences between the two schedules. These comprise, in the 1909 schedule, the new questions authorized by Congress; the elimination of former queries to which it is impossible to obtain approximately accurate replies; and also the simplification of others by their separation or combination in other forms.

One of the subdivisions of the question relating to power employed for manufacturing purposes calls for the name of the stream or lake from which water is obtained to generate power, whether direct or electric. This information will be valuable in a census of the country's water power plants and operations, in case Congress provides for it later.

Another new question involves the quantity of fuel used, whether anthracite coal, bituminous coal, coke, wood, oil, gas or other kind. This is expected to elicit replies affording considerable data on the fuel conservation question.

The thirteen principal questions are briefly: first, a description of the establishment; second, time in operation and hours worked; third, capital invested; fourth, salaried employes; fifth, wage earners, including piece-workers, on the pay roll December 15, 1909; sixth, wage earners, including piece-workers, employed on the 15th day of each month; seventh, salary and wage payments; eighth, materials, mill supplies and fuel; ninth, miscellaneous expenses; tenth, products; eleventh, power; twelfth, fuel; thirteenth, remarks.

The general schedule, beginning shortly after January 1, 1910, will be circulated among the manufacturers throughout the country by the special agents, of whom about 1,600 will be appointed from the successful applicants at the test examination, to be held November 3rd.

W. J. Joyner Met Horrible Death at Cotton Ginnery

STARKE, Fla., Nov. 5.—W. J. Joyner, fireman at J. G. Robert's cotton ginnery at Guilford, was killed last Friday by the explosion of the steam boiler that furnished power for the plant.

The accident occurred about 1 o'clock p. m. Mr. Joyner had eaten his dinner and was firing up for the afternoon run. He leaned forward to throw in a stick of wood just as the explosion took place and was blown backwards for a distance of forty yards. His limbs were fractured in several places and he was badly scalded. He lived only four hours after the accident.

The ginnery was badly damaged by the explosion. The boiler turned end for end and shot in under the building, wrecking the structure and tearing down the machinery.

Mr. Joyner, the unfortunate victim of the accident, was for a long time a resident of Lake Butler, but moved some time ago to Guilford, having bought J. H. Scarborough's farm in that locality. He is survived by his wife and five children.

TRAINS NOS. 9 AND 10 WILL BE TAKEN OFF

REGULAR WINTER SERVICE EFFECTIVE ABOUT NOV. 15.

Superintendent McArthur is Working for Trains Nos. 9 and 10 to Remain in Service.

The regular winter train service over the Coast Line will be inaugurated by Sunday, Nov. 17th, when trains Nos. 37 and 38 will again be placed in service, and rumor has it that four of the trains now being run will be taken off.

Superintendent McArthur was seen Friday by The Sun reporter and he stated that while this was the general rumor he had heard nothing definite about the matter, and he was urging the continuance of trains Nos. 9 and 10 which run between Jacksonville and Ocala, making it possible to visit the metropolis and return the same day.

It is also understood that passenger trains Nos. 138 and 139, more generally known as the Citra train, will be taken off and the service that is being furnished from the western part of the county will be discontinued.

Some special effort should be made by the Board of Trade in the matter of trains Nos. 9 and 10, if they will want them to run, for while Superintendent McArthur has recommended that they be continued, it is understood that they will be taken off, and we will have only the night and day train, as was formerly given this section during last season.

Ever since the inauguration of the new schedule early in the summer the trains have been most liberally patronized, particularly the Jacksonville train, and at times it handles nearly as much business as trains Nos. 39 and 40. The Superintendent is of the opinion that it will still continue to do a nice business if retained in service.

This train has been quite a benefit to the business interests of Gainesville, for it has brought a large number of early shoppers to the city who could come and spend a half a day here by taking this train, or by taking the noon train could return at night on Nos. 9 and still have time to do their shopping.

MELROSE WILL BE GAY.

Further List of Visitors and Attractions for the Season.

Editor Sun: Your correspondent from Melrose in a recent issue, "Gay Winter in Melrose," had the faculty of "sort of" striking a balance between that that IS so and what MIGHT be so, that is refreshing; but as he gave down weight TO FACTS perhaps he can be excused after we administer a mild rebuke for his lack of knowledge.

As to the writer being the Dean of Melrose, he lays claim to no such honor. When I made my first visit to Melrose it was THEN Melrose, as it is now—former name "Shake Rag"—so named because of the straight away race course through the town, on which horses were started and timed by the drop of a flag.

Dr. Frank McRae and William H. Lee were then residents who welcomed me then as they do now; so, if DEAN means seniority, the honor belongs to these gentlemen. It is said that "You can't expect much of no one, nor blame him for what he doesn't know," so with this criticism on your correspondent I will dismiss him after noting a few items of news that perhaps has not reached that beautiful hamlet.

In his item of motor boat attractions he forgot to mention that of J. A. Rummel, also that of the Messrs. Shooters, etc.; however, what he named, with a few additions, make quite a formidable fleet for the protection and pleasure of our town. His vocabulary of arrivals for the winter of 1909 and 1910 can be supplemented by adding Dr. and Mrs. Waters and family, J. N. Cole and wife and Mr. Ackroyd and wife of Utica, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Aubeuf, Oneida, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Randall, Ripley, N. Y., Mr. J. A. Cochrane, Bayshore, N. Y., Dr. and Mrs. Paxton of Patterson, N. J., who have already made their home there for eight winters; Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Lima, Ohio. And how could he forget Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Treadwell, who are so constant in their attendance that Melrose would not be Melrose if they should fail to come. Then, too, Colonel and Mrs. Tolles and H. B. Tolles and wife, both of whom own cottages.

But no use to enumerate farther, this list is liable to be only a small part of visitors to Melrose the coming season. E. J. WHITEHEAD.

Her Logic.

A United States senator in one of his campaigns told this story to illustrate the logic of an opponent: Did you ever hear about the young woman in Fort Dodge? One spring morning she sat on the plazza of her pretty little home sewing a button on her husband's coat. The husband himself appeared, and she said fretfully: "It's a perfect shame the careless way the tailor sewed this button on. This is the fifth time I've had to sew it on again for you."

"Perhaps," replied the suffering maiden, deftly showing a yawn in the act of apparently concealing it, "it was because sometimes they went out."—San Francisco Chronicle.

ANOTHER BIG COTTON SALE MADE ON FRIDAY

GAINESVILLE PEOPLE REACH THE HIGH MARK OF 30 CENTS.

J. A. Pearson, Representing a Savannah Firm, Bought Nearly Three Hundred Bales of Staple.

There was something doing in the cotton market in Gainesville on Friday, when W. T. Chesnut of Arredondo and Mrs. Lois Tucker of this city sold to a Savannah firm nearly three hundred bales at 30 cents the pound.

J. A. Pearson, a cotton buyer representing the Savannah interests, has been in this immediate section for several days past, and while he had purchased already in other sections a large quantity of the staple, he learned that the above amount could be had at this figure and gladly paid it over for the possession of the staple.

For the past several days B. P. Beville has been buying cotton in Gainesville, paying high prices, and on Friday morning he was offering 29 cents for the staple, without sampling and weighing, in order to complete the amount that he was to have in the above deal.

This is the first time in a number of years that cotton has reached such a high market in Gainesville, and the same conditions will not probably exist again in a number of years unless another rainy season should make a shortage of the crop.

In the above deal there was a number of bales held over from last season, and all of this was included at the 30-cent price, but it would have taken an expert to have told the difference.

There are a number of cotton buyers scattered throughout the county at the present time, and within the next few days it is thought that all the cotton in the county will have passed into other hands, in view of the fact that so many are on the hunt for the staple.

HARTSFIELD—DAVIS WEDDING.

The Albany (Ga.) Herald has the following to say of the recent marriage of Mr. Allie Ben Hartsfield to Miss Florence Davis, which happy event was solemnized in that city on last Wednesday:

"One of the prettiest home weddings ever witnessed in Albany was solemnized last night at seven-thirty o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George H. Davis, on Pine street, when Miss Florence Davis became the wife of Mr. Allie Ben Hartsfield, of Gainesville, Fla. In the presence of relatives and a few few friends the impressive ceremony of the Methodist church was performed by Rev. T. H. Thompson. Miss Ethel Bush of this city, maid of honor, and Mr. Frank Hartsfield, of Gainesville, Fla., best man, were the only attendants.

"To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Mattie Bush, the bridal party entered. Miss Ethel Bush, the maid of honor was first to enter, passing from the parlor into the reception hall and then into the living room. The groom and his best man entered from the apartment on the opposite side of the living room and were met at the altar by the bride, who had entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. O. L. Davis. During the ceremony Schubert's Serenade was played. At the conclusion of the ceremony the young couple were showered with congratulations.

"The bride is one of Albany's most beautiful and attractive young women, and is a graduate of the Albany High School. Several years ago Miss Davis moved to Albany from Camilla, and since that time, when she entered the public schools here, she has been one of Albany's most admired young women.

"The bride was never prettier than last night. She wore a handsome white satin gown with real lace yoke, and circular collar of real lace, trimmed in pearls. The gown was made semi-princess, with small tucks at the waist and paniers of white satin. She wore a spray of orange blossoms in her hair. The bride carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses, caught with a shower of embroidered tissue tulle.

Miss Ethel Bush, the maid of honor, was beautiful in a handsome white crepe de chine gown, with yoke of real lace, trimmed in pearls. The gown was made semi-princess, with shirred girdle effect. Miss Bush carried pink carnations and ferns, tied with pink embroidered tissue tulle.

"Mr. Hartsfield, the groom, is a resident of Gainesville, Fla., where he is interested in the wholesale grocery business with his father. He is a young man of sterling qualities and standing high in the social and commercial world of Gainesville.

"The young couple were recipients of numerous handsome wedding presents and all during the day were showered with congratulatory telegrams.

"Mr. and Mrs. Hartsfield left last night for Macon, where they will spend a few days at the fair, going from there to Atlanta to attend the auto races. They will spend several days in Jacksonville, on their way home to Gainesville.

TWO BIG GAMES TODAY.

Both First and Second Elevens of University Are Away.

The University of Florida will be well represented on the gridiron today, both at DeLand and at Jacksonville, for two very interesting games are anticipated by the admirers of this sport.

The first eleven of the University have gone to DeLand to play the fast crowd from Stetson this afternoon, while the second team will meet with the Duval County High School at Jacksonville. Both teams left here Friday, that they may be on the grounds and fully rested for the coming combat.

Considerable interest is manifested by the citizens and student body, and the general impression is that the contests will prove most exciting and interesting. Both teams from the University are in excellent shape, and good work is expected from them, while on the other side the eleven from Stetson is the strongest of the State heretofore, and a great fight will have to be made to win this game.

The Jacksonville game will more than likely come to the second eleven of the University, unless some outside players are run in on them by the High School boys, for their work has been more thorough the present season under Coach Pile, and a victory is anticipated.

Tennyson's First Poems.

The wind came sweeping through the garden of an old Lincolnshire rectory one morning in the beginning of last century and blew upon a child of five years old, who opened his arms to the blast and let it carry him along, crying as he traveled, "I hear a voice that's calling in the wind." That was Tennyson's first line of poetry. The first poem he ever composed was written upon a slate one Sunday morning at Louth. The subject, set him by his brother Charles, was "Flowers," and little Alfred covered his slate with blank verse after the model of Thomson's "Seasons." His next attempt was an elegy upon his grandmother, who had just died, written at the request of his grandfather. When it was written the old man put 10 shillings into the boy's hand and said, "There, that is the first money you have ever earned by your poetry, and, take my word for it, it will be the last."—Westminster Gazette.

Opening an Oyster.

"The Cook's Oracle," a book, which was never far from the kitchens of our great-grandmothers, is very precise in its directions as to the proper manner of preserving and eating oysters, says an English journal. "The true lover of an oyster," writes the author, "will have some regard for the feelings of his little favorite and will never abandon it to the mercies of a bungling operator, but will open it himself and contrive to detach the fish from the shell so dexterously that the oyster is hardly conscious he has been ejected from his lodging till he feels the teeth of the piscivorous gourmand tickling him to death."

This Was In Denmark.

An Englishman having business in a certain Danish town arrived at the railway station. He inquired of a group of men standing near the way to the house he wanted, whereupon one of them offered to go with him and show him. With recollections of what such a service meant in England he said, "I don't want a guide." "But surely you asked us to show you the way," said one of them. "Yes, but I don't want a guide." "My dear sir, I am not a guide; I am the bishop."

Lingering Superstitions.

"Will a lucky gentlewoman give an unlucky one a tiny mascot to bring luck?" runs an advertisement in an English paper. Here was a poor soul—for if there is a creature on the face of the earth whose fate calls for pity it is a gentlewoman who is down—keeping in her poverty some of that superstition or faith, whatever it may be called, which is the only thing that keeps misfortune from crushing the sufferer. If only she could get the right charm she might induce fate to look kindly on her! People call this a practical age, but evidences of superstition continue to appear. A lawsuit not long ago revealed the fact that an astrologer kept a motorcar and had a fine house, etc., all of which came out of the proceeds of a zodiacal magazine.

As Exemplified.

Having given his order twenty minutes before and seeing no indications that his dinner was ready, the man with the sparse whiskers beckoned to a waiter.

"My friend," he said, "perhaps I have made a mistake. Is this a pay as you enter restaurant?"

"No, sir," responded the young man in the white apron, yawning. "This is a dinner cooked while you wait restaurant."

Thereupon he resumed his dreamy, contemplative attitude, and the man with the sparse whiskers waited some more.—Chicago Tribune.

..BELT PINS..

Buckles are undoubtedly a thing of the past. Some beautiful belt pins are shown in the most elegant designs. Odd shapes with big sets are very popular.

Hat Pins—Of hat pins there are a thousand and one different styles, all of which are worthy. There are pins with metal rims framing jewels of different kinds, and there are pins of metal alone and jewels alone. Silver Hat Pins are good because they go so well with the trimmings used on the hats.

The first and second days' of our Piano Contest proved interesting, as friends of the girls and young ladies are getting busy in order to have them among the first.

Jacksonville continues to grow. Sixty thousand people make that city their home.

The continued dry weather has been a great drawback to the sportsman in quest of the festive quail.

The Chicago Record-Herald says that truth is more of a stranger than fiction. Of course it is—in Chicago.

About a dozen individuals now have their eyes upon the office of Railroad Commissioner to be elected next year.

St. George and the Dragon—the deacon and the hook worm! Augusta suspected all the time that he was a saint.

Well, this year's cotton crop will fetch about $75,000,000 into the South, hook worm or no hook worm; pellagra or no pellagra.

What may be accomplished with sand is shown by an illustration appearing in the November Popular Mechanics. An enterprising beach artist at Atlantic City modeled in sand an automobile with occupants so realistically that nervous people were continually dodging it.

The third chapter of a practical article on denatured alcohol by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, appears in the November number of Popular Mechanics. The chapter discusses materials for making industrial alcohol. The series will end in the December number.

Short staple cotton is more than 15 cents a pound; at a season when many poor folks—small farmers and tenants—are obliged to sell. This is worth more to the country than 20 cents a pound would be next spring. And cotton seed is selling at 40 cents a bushel. And everything else the farmer has produced is usually high in price. What is the matter with Dixie?

What has become of our old friend and Tampa's great booster, Col. J. Laud Brown? Is it possible that he has been "thrown" overboard" by the powers that be, after what he has done for the Cigar City? Col. Brown did more for Tampa's interests in his own way during four years than all the "wind-jammers" will accomplish in forty. He deserves better treatment than being "shelved," and we hope soon to hear that his work for Tampa in the past is being recognized in a substantial way.

Chicago will soon be the possessor of one of the finest hotels for Chinese in the United States, if plans of South Clark street merchants are carried out. According to Chinese merchants there many visitors from China have been unable to obtain rooms at the first-class hotels because of their inability to speak English, and scores have been compelled to seek lodging and entertainment at the houses of countrymen. The hotel as planned will be six stories and much of the work will be done by Orientals. The decorations will be exclusively Chinese.

PROHIBITION ELECTION.

LaFayette county has been dry for several years and an election is to be held next Tuesday to decide whether existing conditions shall be changed. The campaign is said to have been a "red-hot" one, and much ill-feeling has been engendered between neighbors who expressed opposing views regarding the whiskey question. In fact, it seems that even those who preferred to keep their opinions to themselves have not escaped criticism. But the editor of The Mayo Free Press has withstood the bombardment from both sides and maintained his position of neutrality with a complacency that cannot but be admired. He says:

"It seems to be the idea of some of our patrons and friends that The Free Press should come out on one side or the other in the "wet or dry" campaign now on in our county. Therefore, we feel that a clear-cut statement of our position would not be amiss; rather that such is due our preference and we have it—and it is readers and the public generally.

"The Free Press will maintain a position of neutrality.

"Because—

"We have friends and patrons on each side of the question now before the people, and while the editor, personally, has his preference, just as has any other citizen, he does not feel that it would be exact justice for the paper to take issue with either side.

"As an individual and citizen we have a right to have our personal our intention to vote according to our convictions, uninfluenced by the opinions of others who have no interest in us or with us.

"We desire every citizen of the county to exercise his own judgment in the matter and vote accordingly.

"Though we have been a citizen of this county for a number of years, and all we have is here, we would not presume to advise you; we do not think you need a guardian, or that you haven't sense enough to make up your mind on this or any other matter.

"No, sir, The Press is not the 'organ' of the 'drys' or the 'wets,' but we are trying to do our duty by our patrons and subscribers by publishing a clean, readable, reliable little paper.

JUDGE JESSE T. BERNARD.

The death of Judge Jesse Talbot Bernard at Tallahassee marks the passing of a member of the old guard in Florida life. He was one of the first settlers of Tallahassee, and was familiar with the days when the Indians were hostile and the stage coach afforded the only means of communication between the capital of Florida and the outer world. Those were the days of adventure and rare romance.

Coupled with unusual facilities of observation and memory, he possessed a love for relating the stirring incidents of those early days, and his reminiscences would be valuable contribution to history if they had been preserved. He was frequently offered the opportunity to engage in politics, but his love for the quiet and simpler life moved him to decline all opportunities for preferment, except that as mayor of his town, which he accepted when it was an office that called for more courage than diplomacy. And too, for a time, he served as county judge. He was educated, traveled and well informed. He had acquaintance with the royal ones of Europe and knew their families with a thoroughness that few can boast. He viewed life from a calm perspective of separateness, and conducted his own so circumspectly that he had the love and admiration of everyone in the community where he lived and died.—Miami Metropolis.

IT PAYS TO RAISE MULES.

I have on my place now one mare that has brought me seven mules. I have used the mare for nine years and have received $1,200, said to be the value of the mules, and have a nice filly colt worth $100, and the mare looks almost as well as she did when I bought her. The older mules are sixteen hands high and weigh over 1,000 pounds each. They have taken several premiums at Jackson and other fairs.

I have been asked what it costs to raise a mule and answer, "Twenty dollars to get him ready for the collar." While I have been raising those colts I have improved the land that furnished pasture in summer and hay for winter. I could sell it now for a fourth more than when I commenced. —W. R. Haley, in Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer.

JOHNSON'S TRIBUTE TO WOMEN.

The late Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota paid a beautiful tribute to the women of Kentucky at a banquet in Louisville last year, when, in speaking of the various delegations of women he had met at a convention in Boston a short time before, he said: "There are three delegations that I remember most particularly and with greatest pleasure. They are the Boston women, because of their brilliant minds; the Texas women, because of their beauty, and the Kentucky women, because of both their beauty and mental capabilities"—From Norman E. Mack's Monthly.

Gymnastics In Switzerland.

Once in every three years the gymnasts of Switzerland and the members of the affiliated clubs in other countries, for the most part composed of Swiss residents abroad, meet to compete in the great contest known as the federal gymnastic festival. A carefully prepared series of exercises is gone through on gymnastic apparatus. There is Swiss wrestling, and there are competitions in the national games of Switzerland, including throwing the stone (a forty pound square block of granite). The festival closes with a display of combined extending exercises in which all the competitors—10,000 at times—take part. Gymnastics are the national pastimes of the Swiss boys and young men, and the clubs they form are recognized and encouraged by the federal government.—Illustrated London News.

NEGRO MURDERER IS CAPTURED AT MIAMI

KILLED WIFE BECAUSE OF JEALOUSY AT JONESVILLE.

Was Caught by Sheriff Hardee at Miami on Friday—Ramsey After the Fugitive.

Jim Simmons, the negro who killed his wife near Jonesville a few weeks since and eventually made his escape from this section, has been arrested at Miami by Sheriff Hardee, who notified Sheriff Ramsey on Friday and the latter left immediately for the fugitive.

Simmons, it will be remembered, killed his wife because he was jealous of her, after he had repeatedly told her of how he desired that she conduct herself.

The negro is a middle-aged darkey and lived in the Jonesville settlement for some time past, having conducted a neat little farm, and was thought by many to be doing well and prospering until shortly after his marriage.

His wife was entertaining the negro preacher at her home one Sunday evening and it was while this party was there that Jim killed his wife, and afterwards placed the body in his buggy, drove to what is known as the Pineville settlement and placed the body of the dead woman on the front porch of her parents, making his escape to parts unknown.

The officers here were on the lookout for the man for sometime and kept all places of exit closely watched, but by some means he eluded them, and it was recently learned that he had made for the East Coast, when the sheriff notified all the officers in that section.

Sheriff Ramsey will return with the prisoner either today or Sunday.

Catarrh of the Stomach a Prevalent Disease Difficult to Relieve.

A PROMPT AND EFFICIENT REMEDY.

Mr. S. W. Jackson, 315 Weaver Block, Greenville, Ohio, says: "While I was superintendent of construction of J. F. Border and Bros.' Co., of Hamilton, Ohio, I became entirely unfit for business with catarrh of the stomach.

"A friend called my attention to a remedy for this condition. I began to improve at once. I was soon able to return to my former profession.

"It would require many pages to describe the condition I was in and the relief I have obtained."

Here is another case. Officer George Y. Stout, 724 North Broadway, Baltimore, Md., says: "I suffered very much with catarrh of the stomach and nervous indigestion. I lost fifty pounds in four months.

"A friend called my attention to a remedy, which I used, and gradually got well. I have gained half my lost weight back again."

Chronic Stomach Trouble.

Mr. Robert J. Gillespie, 636 South Main St., Los Angeles, Cal., secretary of Lather's International Union, was also suffering from catarrh of the stomach a long time. He grew thinner and paler, lost all ambition and appetite. Sick at the stomach, indigestion continually.

A friend also called his attention to a remedy, which brought about a decided improvement. After continuing the use of the remedy for a month, he considers himself permanently relieved.

Now, once more. Mr. Christian Hofman, Slatington, Pa., says he suffered for many years with catarrh of the stomach. It produced a miserable cough, day and night. He tried doctors and many remedies. At last his attention was called to a remedy, the same remedy that relieved the others which have been referred to above. He claims that he was entirely rid of his stomach difficulty.

Pe-ru-na Brought Back Health.

What was the remedy that has wrought this remarkable relief? So far, the remedy has not been mentioned.

If any one doubts the correctness of these statements it is very easy to verify them by writing to the people whose names have been given, enclosing a stamp for reply.

The remedy is within the reach of every one. It is simply the good, old standard reliable remedy known as Peruna.

If the truth were known, the probabilities are that Peruna has relieved as many cases of catarrh of the stomach as any other popular remedy in existence. We have a great many unsolicited testimonials from all parts of the United States, declaring in strong and enthusiastic terms that Peruna has entirely relieved them of catarrh of the stomach, that they were wretched and miserable beyond words, but Peruna has restored them to health, vigor and happiness.

These are the facts. Now, if you have stomach difficulty, it is up to you to act upon them or ignore them, as you please.

Symptoms of Stomach Catarrh.

"The affection may result from errors in diet, or the use of alcohol. The excessive use of tobacco, especially when the juice or the leaves are swallowed, is likely to cause it.

"Highly seasoned or coarse, irritating foods, sometimes induce the disease.

"As chronic gastritis (catarrh of the stomach) is essentially a secondary affection, one of the primary causes is an unhealthy state of the mouth, nose or throat, such as bad teeth or catarrh of the nose (ozena).

"The patients are usually poorly nourished, pale, sallow, thin, fatigue easily induced, muscles flabby. Loss of appetite or capricious appetite.

"The tongue is usually coated brownish gray. Cankered mouth is a common occurrence.

"Pain is not common. When present it is usually dull, and is aggravated by food, especially when this is of an irritating character.

"Vomiting may occur in the morning. Also after meals. Sickness to the stomach frequent and persistent.

"Food produces dull headache, and a feeling of general nervous distress. Constipation usually quite marked."

These symptoms, given by Gould and Pyle, coincide exactly with the frequent descriptions Dr. Hartman is receiving from patients all over the United States.

If you have any of these symptoms get a bottle of Peruna. Take a dose before each meal. See if your stomach does not immediately feel better, your appetite improve, your digestion at once resume business.

People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets.

OBESITY CURED.

A Remedy That Is Not Liable to Attain Wide Popularity.

Peter the Great was once traveling incognito in a part of Finland, when he met a very fat man who told him that he was going to St. Petersburg.

"What for?" asked the czar.

"To consult a doctor about being so fat, which has become very oppressive."

"Do you know any doctor there?"

"No."

"Then I will give you a line to my friend, Prince Menschikoff, and he will introduce you to one of the emperor's physicians."

The traveler went to the prince's house with a note. The answer was not delayed. The next day, tied hands and feet, the poor man was dragged off on a cart to the mines.

Two years after Peter the Great was visiting the mines. He had forgotten the incident of the fat man, when suddenly a miner threw down his pick, rushed up to him and fell at his feet crying:

"Grace, grace, what is it I have done?"

Peter looked at him, astonished, until he remembered the story.

"Oh, so that is you!" he said. "I hope you are pleased with me. Stand up! How thin and slight you have become! Go, and remember that work is the best cure for your complaint!"

Bamboo Shoots as Food.

The bamboo shoots that are eaten are not yet branched, of a conical form and sheathed in an envelope generally covered by small, prickly bristles. These young shoots emerge very vigorously from the soil at the foot of the bamboo tufts. The Chinese and Japanese, it appears, consume large quantities of them. They use them as seasoning with pork and chicken. The first thing in their preparation naturally is to rid the sprouts of their disagreeable sheath. They are then cut either lengthwise or in slices and are placed in boiling water. The water is renewed once or twice, and after adding salt a vegetable is obtained which reminds one strongly of the root of the artichoke. The Japanese also eat them preserved in brine or vinegar. The gathering of the young bamboo shoots, during which one must be careful of the prickly envelope, takes place in June and November in Tonkin. The November shoots are the better appreciated.—New York Herald's Paris Edition.

Sawing Rails Is Not Musical.

Rails are cut with saws—not quietly; not at all. There is considerable racket underneath an elevated railroad in a narrow street, the subway isn't quite a lodge in some vast wilderness, but never until I watched a toothless saw cut through a cold steel rail by friction, melting its way—you can see the smeared ends afterward—did I experience a noise that my ear felt rather than heard, says Eugene Wood in Success Magazine. The toothless saw whirled with unimaginable speed, the sparks showered like an enormous pinwheel, and the unwilling steel emitted a shriek of agony that was like a forceful finger jammed into my ear and scratching on my eardrum with its nail. It was like a brass band of a hundred pieces, each piece blowing fortissimo, a note a half tone higher than its fellow. I don't care for such "close harmony."

On the Spot.

"Yes," said the Billville story teller, "the cyclone carried his house into the next county and set it down there as comfortable as you please, and as he stepped out of the door to survey the country the man who owned the land notified him of suit for trespass and the tax collector handed him a bill for taxes."—Atlanta Constitution.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

A LIBERAL OFFER.

Its Effect Upon the Customer to Whom It Was Made.

A business man of Dayton, O., tells this story of some commercial friends of his:

A customer who bought in a small way from the wholesalers and whose credit was not of the sort known as gilt edged visited the city and purchased a $2,800 bill of goods, paying $2,500 in cash and giving his note for the remaining $300.

After the transaction had been closed and the paper and currency had changed hands the customer said:

"Now, after a deal of that size it is customary to give a purchaser a present. Come across with it."

"We'll throw in a pair of suspenders," laughed the salesman temporizingly.

"A pair of suspenders, eh! Say, quit fooling. I really mean it. I expect you to do something in acknowledgment of my patronage."

The salesman went to the manager with the problem, and the manager said:

"Well, if he feels that way about it we might encourage him a bit. We'll do something that ought to please him greatly. Give him back his $300 note. Make him a present of his paper. That will make him a cash customer and raise his credit and save him money besides."

The salesman went back, pleased to be the bearer of such joyful tidings of liberality in business.

"Well, sir," he said, "we've arranged about that present, all right. Here," with a flourish, "is your note. We give it back to you."

The customer did not seem enthusiastic. Instead, without looking at the note he asked:

"Is it indorsed?"

"No," said the salesman in astonishment.

"Then I guess you better gimme the suspenders," said the disappointed customer.—Chicago News.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 2

The Dollar That Can't Be Spent

By Herbert Kaufman

Every dollar spent in advertising is not only a seed dollar which grows a profit for the merchant but is actually retained by him even after he has paid it to the publisher.

Advertising creates a good will worth the cost of the publicity.

It actually costs nothing. While it uses funds it does not use them up. It helps the founder of a business to grow rich and at the same time keeps his business from not dying when he does.

It eliminates the personal equation. It perpetuates confidence in the store and makes it possible for a merchant to withdraw from business without having the profits of the business withdrawn from him. It changes a name to an institution—an institution that will survive after the death of its builder.

It is really an insurance policy which costs nothing—pays a premium each year instead of calling for one, and renders it possible to change the entire personnel of a business without disturbing its prosperity.

Advertising renders the business stronger than the man—independent of his presence. It permanentizes systems of merchandising, the track of which is left for others to follow.

A business which is not advertised must rely upon the personality of its proprietor, and personality in business is a decreasing factor. The public does not want to know the man who owns the store—it isn't interested in him, but in his goods. When an unadvertised business is sold it is only worth as much as its stock of goods and fixtures. There is no good will to be paid for—it does not exist—it has not been created. The name over the door means nothing except to the limited stream of people from the immediate neighborhood, any of whom could tell you more about some store ten miles away which has regularly delivered its shop news to their breakfast tables.

It is as shortsighted for a man to build a business which dies with his death or ceases with his inaction as it is unfair for him not to provide for the continuance of its income to his family.

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocketbook—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.
